

South West Youth Support Program

JSW 's South West Youth Support Program' (SWYSP) is an individually tailored, location-based intensive personal support program targeting young people aged 12 – 18 years of age who are experiencing hardship directly caused by the impacts of COVID-19.

SWYSP will:

- Provide advocacy and counselling
- Provide opportunities and support to further education and training
- Support opportunities for work placement and to explore employment pathways.
- Offer supported access to government agencies, health and community services
- Provide transportation to attend appointments and social/recreational activities
- Provide opportunities to improve health and wellbeing
- Build Independence
- Develop life skills
